Dr Sarah Brooke is a creative arts educator who has taught in preschools, primary schools, secondary schools, and tertiary institutions to early childhood educators, pre-service teachers, music, movement and drama teachers, mothers and babies, children, adults, community workers, classroom teachers and prisoners.

Sarah completed her doctorate in 2016 investigating Orff Schulwerk and family music learning. She has been an advocate of this approach for many years and contributes to the International Orff Schulwerk Forum discussions held in Salzburg each year. She has presented workshops and training courses across Australia, Singapore, Hong Kong, China, Malaysia, New Zealand and Brazil.

Sarah currently spends half of her year living in China where she is employed as a consultant. During the other half of the year she likes to travel and spend time on her 30-acre property in central Victoria.

QOSA sponsored Sarah as a keynote speaker and presenter at the 2019 Maryborough Music Conference, and we are delighted to have her back in 2020.

Please note: Two different workshops are being offered (A & B) across the five locations, enabling you to make the most of your weekends. Neither workshop is a prerequisite for the other.
